as to each ground on which you request action by the federal court. If you fail to set forth all grounds in this petition, you may be barred from presenting additional grounds at a later date.

For your information, the following is a list of the most frequently raised grounds for relief in habeas corpus proceedings. Each statement preceded by a letter constitutes a separate ground for possible relief. You may raise any grounds which you may have other than those listed if you have exhausted you state court remedies with respect to them. However, you should raise in this petition all available grounds (relating to this conviction) on which you base your allegations that you are being held in custody unlawfully.

Do not check any of these listed grounds. If you select one or more of these grounds for relief, you must allege facts. The petition will be returned to you if you merely check (a) through (j) or any one of these grounds.

- (a) Conviction obtained by plea of guilty which was unlawfully induced or not made voluntarily with understanding of the nature of the charge and the consequences of the plea.
- (b) Conviction obtained by use of coerced confession.
- (c) Conviction obtained by use of evidence gained pursuant to an unconstitutional search and seizure.
- (d) Conviction obtained by use of evidence obtained pursuant to an unlawful arrest.
- (e) Conviction obtained by a violation of the privilege against self-incrimination.
- (f) Conviction obtained by the unconstitutional failure of the prosecution to disclose to the defendant evidence favorable to the defendant.
- (g) Conviction obtained by a violation of the protection against double jeopardy.
- (h) Conviction obtained by action of a grand or petit jury which was unconstitutionally selected and impaneled.

Ground- One

Petitioner's conviction was obtained by a plea of guilty which was unlawfully induced or not made voluntarily with understanding of the nature of the charges and the consequences of the plea.

Supporting Facts

On September 8,1976, petitioner plead guilty to indictment number 76-GS-31-192 (Robbery & Grand Larceny), and Indictment number 76-GS-31-193 (Murder). Petitioner contends that his plea violated Federal Criminal Rule 11, because South Carolina does not permit a conviction for both robbery and larceny from the same act. Further, that larceny is a lesser included offense within robbery, and punishment for both offenses arising out of the same incident is impermissible. See State v. Austin, 385 S.E.2d 830, at 832(S.C.1989); State v. Lawson, 305 S.E.2d 249(S.C.1983). See Exhibit "A"(Indictment & Plea)

Petitioner contends that because of the above violation, his plea was unlawfully induced and not made voluntarily with understanding of the nature of the charges and the consequences of the plea. See Boykin v. Alabama, 395 U.S. 238(1969); Strickland v. Washington, 104 S.Ct. 2052; McCarthy v. United States, 89 S.Ct. 1166, at 1170(1969).

Two Ground-Ono

Denial of effective assistance of counsel during plea. (conflict of interest)

Supporting Facts

Petitioner contends that there was a conflict of interest during his plea, because his codefendant signed statements against him.

Petitioner contends that he and his codenfendant had the same lawyer, and that he complained to his counsel about this dual representation.

The Court recognizes that a lawyer forced to represent codefendants whose interest conflict can not provide the adequate legal assistance required by the Six Amendment. Holloway v. Arkansas, 98 S.Ct., at 1177. For that reason, the court has recognized that "the right to counsel is the right to the effective assistance of counsel". McMann v. Richardson, 90 S.Ct. 1441, 1449, note 14. Counsel, however, can also deprive a defendant of the right to effective assistance, simply by failing to render "adequate legal assistance," Cuyler v. Sullivan, 100 S.Ct., at 1716-1719(actual conflict of interest adversely affecting lawyer's performance renders assistance ineffective.)
Petitioner contends t his lawyer was aware that he and his Petitioner contends that his lawyer was aware that he and his codefendant had signed statement on each other. At that time the lawyer was obligated to inquire into the conflict or at lease advise the defendants that he could only serve one defendant's interest.

Ground-Three

Denial of effective assistance of counsel during plea.

Supporting Facts

As stated in petitioner's ground one, counsel was ineffective for not advising petitioner that it was impermissible for him to plea guilty to both larceny and robbery offenses arising out of the same incident. And for not advising defendant that larceny was a lesser included offense under South Carolina law. See State v. Lawson, 305 S.E.2d 249.

Petitioner contends that a guilty plea is open to attack on the grounds that counsel did not provide the defendant with "reasonably competent advise." McMann v. Richardson, 90 S.Ct. 1441, 1448-1449.

This Court must determine if counsel advising petitioner to plea to both larceny an robbery was "reasonably competent advise." See Strickland v. Washington, 104 S.Ct. 2052. See Exhibit "A"(Indictment).

Ground-Four

Denial of effective assistance of counsel, and Fourth Amendment illegal arrest.

Supporting Facts

On May 28,1976, petitioner was arrested without a warrant, and taken by force to the police station for the sole purpose of questioning, finger printing and searching. Petitioner contends his counsel was ineffective for not investigating, challenging or advising him that this evidence could be supressed if challenged. We would remind this Court of the United States Supreme Court's ruling in Dunaway v. New York, 99 S.Ct. 2248, at 2253(1979)(Defendant was "seized" in the fourth amendment sense when he was taken involuntarily to the police station for questioning). See Sept.8,1976,TR.10-11.

Generally, a warrantless search is per-se unreasonable and thus violative of the four amendment's prohibition against unreasonable search and seizures. State v. Bailey, 274 S.E.2d 913(1981). The burden of establishing probable cause as well as the existence of circumstances constituting an exception to the general prohibition against warrantless search and seizures is upon the prosecution. See State v. Bultron, 457 S.E.2d 616,621(1995); Vale v. Louisiana, 90 S.Ct. 1969(1970).

The United States Supreme Court declared that evidence seized in violation of the fourth amendment must be excluded in federal criminal proceedings. Weeks v. United States, 34 S.Ct. 341(1914). Later, the Court applied the fourth amendment and its exclusionary rule to the individual States as well. See Mapp v. Ohio, 81 S.Ct. 1684(1961); Wolf v. Colorado, 69 S.Ct. 1359(1949). In parallel, South Carolina Const. art.1§10 contains an express protection of the right to privacy:

"The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable search and seizures and unreasonable invasions of privacy shall not be violated,..."(emphasis added).

Initially, even in the absence of a specific right to privacy provision, this Court could interpret our State Constitution as providing more protection than the federal counterpart. However, by articulating a specific prohibition against "unreasonable invasions of privacy," the people of South Carolina have indicated that searches and seizures that do not offend the federal constitution may still offend the South Carolina Constitution resulting in the exclusion of the discovered evidence. See State v. Forrester, 541 S.E.2d 837, at 841(S.C.2001). See Sept.8,1976,TR.10-11.

Here, petitioner argued this issue before the PCR Court on October 11,1978, as shown in the transcripts.

Ground-Five

Denial of effective assistance of counsel, and Fourth Amendment Warrant lacked probable cause.

Supporting Facts

On May 29,1976, Officer Liston Truesdale, made a affidavit in support of an arrest warrant. This affidavit lacked probable cause, because Officer Truesdale does not list how he obtained the information, but simply states, "Liston Truesdale is a witness to prove same".

Counsel was ineffective for not investigating, challenging, or advising petitioner that the warrant and evidence could be supressed if challenged. See Exhibit "B"(arrest warrants).

As pointed out in State v. Hill, 138 S.E.2d 829, the fourth amendment ,and S.C.Const.art. 1§16, proscribe unreasonable searches and seizures in identical language, and prohibit the issuance of warrants except "upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation." (Emphisis added). See State v. York, 156 S.E.2d 326 (S.C.1967)

In Giordenello v. United States, 357 U.S. 480, at 486(1958), the United States Supreme Court stated:

"...no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing... the persons or things to be seized...", of course applies to arrest as well as search warrants. See also Illinois v. Gates, 103 S.Ct.2317, at 2332(1983).

In fact, South Carolina Attorney General Office has stated: "The affidavit must be couched in such language that if the things sworn to prove to be false the affiant would be guilty of perjury. See 1940-41 Op.Atty.Gen.at 170.

Also, South Carolina Attorney General Office has stated: "If the person who makes the affidavit upon which the warrant is based does not know the facts sworn to of <a href="https://doi.org/include/h

It is clear from the October 11,1978 PCR Transcript that Officer Truesdale did not personally witness the crime. Counsel should have challenged the warrant's affidavit, as they were not supplemented by oral statement before the magistrate. See Exhibit " \underline{B} " (arrest warrants)

Ground-Six

Denial of effective assistance of counsel during before and during plea. (Fifth Amendment violation).

Supporting Facts

Petitioner contends that his fourth and fifth amendment rights were violated when Officer Liston Truesdale, arrested him on May 28,1976, without a warrant. [See exhibit "B", warrant affidavit was not made until May 29,1976, and the warrant was not issued until July 30,1976.]

The record will show petitioner was "seized" in the Fourth Amendment sense when he was taken involuntarily and without an arrest warrant, to the Bishopville police station. See Sept.8,1976,TR.10-11. See also, Dunaway v. New York, 99 S.Ct.2248,2253 (1979).

Furthermore, a confession obtained through custodial interrogation after illegal arrest should be excluded unless intervening events break causal connection between arrest and confession so that confession is sufficiently an act of free will to purge primary taint. See Taylor v. Alabama, 102 S.Ct. 2664 (1982). We remind this court that Miranda warnings alone and per-se, cannot always make act of confession sufficiently a product of free will to break, for Fourth Amendment purposes, the causal connection between illegality of arrest and confession. See Brown v. Illinois, 98 S.Ct. 2254 (1975).

This Court should note that the burden of showing admissibility of custodial statements taken after an illegal arrest rest on the prosecution. See Brown v. Illinois, 95 S.Ct. 2254 (1975).

Here, Petitioner states he requested an attorney when Officer Liston Truesdale first made contact with him on May 28,1976. When he refused to talk, he was involutarily taken to the police station.

Although the State Court failed to undertake the inquiry mandated by Wong Sun v. United States, 83 S.Ct. at 413, to evaluate the circumstances of this case in the light of the policy served by the exclusionary rule, we conclude the State PCR Court failed to sustain the burden of showing the the evidence in question was admissible.

Again, Petitioner contends his counsel was ineffective for not challenging or advising him that his statments could be successfully suppressed if challenged.

Wherefore, we pray this petition will be granted.
